Advanced Research Abroad

Affiliated with the American Council on Education

The Directory

This Directory lists 689 U.S. scholars who have been awarded 1982-83 Fulbright awards for university lecturing and advanced research in about 100 countries. The dates at the end of each entry indicate a range of time during which each scholar will be overseas; however, these dates do not necessarily indicate the exact months of each person's stay, since specific information could not be obtained in time for printing. Names of grantees whose awards were initiated after October, 1982, will appear in next year's directory. The descriptive information on each scholar is arranged according to academic discipline. Scholars are also listed by host country, by home state, and in alphabetical order.

The Council for International Exchange of Scholars also publishes a similar list of senior scholars from abroad visiting the United States under Fulbright auspices, with a notation of those who wish to participate in the Occasional Lecturer Program. Copies of the Directory of Visiting Fulbright Scholars and Occasional Lecturer Program are available from the Council upon request.

The Fulbright Program for U.S. Scholars

Each year approximately 700 U.S. scholars are awarded Fulbright grants to lecture and study abroad. The Fulbright Program is supervised by the Board of Foreign Scholarships, which establishes general policies and selects all participating individuals and institutions. The Board is composed of twelve members appointed from academic, cultural, and public life by the President of the United States. The U.S. Information Agency funds and administers the program, with the assistance of binational Fulbright commissions and foundations, U.S. embassies abroad, and designated cooperating agencies in the United States.

The Council for International Exchange of Scholars (CIES), established in 1947 by the Conference Board of Associated Research Councils, is the principal private agency in the United States assisting in the administration of the Fulbright program for senior scholars. Members of CIES are appointed by the member councils of the Conference Board of Associated Research Councils: the American Council on Education, the American Council of Learned Societies, the National Academy of Sciences, and the Social Science Research Council. Since 1975 CIES has been affiliated with the American Council on Education.

Nature of Grants

Most Fulbright grants are for the academic year of the host institution or country. Grants for periods shorter than an academic year are also awarded in a number of countries. Except for specified programs, however, summer grants and grants for attendance at international conferences are not available. Two thirds of the awards are for university lecturing, usually in a field of importance to the host institution. Many lectureships allow opportunity for research, and research scholars may undertake occasional lecturing. Terms of awards vary from country to country but generally include roundtrip travel, basic health insurance, maintenance allowances, and certain supplemental allowances.

Most awards require a doctorate and appropriate professional experience. While English is acceptable for many assignments, fluency in the language of the host country is sometimes required. All applicants must be U.S. citizens.

The National Competition

To obtain application forms and additional information, interested scholars at graduate institutions should inquire at the office of the graduate dean (or, in some institutions, the office of international programs), through which CIES distributes applications, program announcements, and other information to campuses. At two-year and four-year institutions, forms and information are available from the office of the chief academic officer.

American scholars and other professionals interested in university lecturing and advanced research abroad are welcome at any time to complete a CIES registration form, which can be obtained upon request from the Council. Registrants receive a spring announcement of senior Fulbright awards to begin 12-18 months later, as well as occasional announcements of opportunities under other programs administered by the Council. They are sometimes invited to apply for specific appointments in certain fields.

The general competition for Australia, New Zealand, and Latin American countries closes June 15, 1983. For countries in Africa, Asia, Europe, and the Middle East, competition closes September 15, 1983.
