Alberta Bailey reported that she held a meeting of everyone involved in the main service desk makeover to discuss who will be affected by the immediate plans of the Extreme Makeover Task Force. Alberta mentioned that the PrintSmart system related to student printing quotas will become active by early June, the date to be announced. The Provost will determine at what level faculty and staff will have free printing.

Judy Ganson reported on plans for implementing a federated search platform to be incorporated into a newly designed home page by the fall semester. Plans are for a gradual phase-in of databases to be included in this platform so that each of the databases can be sufficiently tested before incorporated. Most of the databases should be fully incorporated by the beginning of classes in the fall; others might follow later in the semester.

Judy reported that Web Services has been working with the Pryor Center to make alternative versions of their videos available for mobile devices. This will require changing some of the Web pages and will probably entail other technological implications that will need to be explored.

Alberta mentioned that the library is working with the Pryor Center to film a tour of Mullins Library conducted solely by students.

Alberta announced that the search for the Head of the Physics Library is now in full swing. Tony Stankus is chair of the search committee.
