Learning Collaborative Meeting -- December 18, 2008

Members present: Jones, Lennertz Jetton, Parker-Gibson, Salisbury

The group participated in a mock training of the Quizdom software led by Necia Parker-Gibson. She also distributed draft handouts for the group.

Discussion ensued regarding the training order. Members were encouraged to review the handouts and send comments to Parker-Gibson for inclusion in the final draft.

Training on the clickers was scheduled to occur on January 7th.

Learning Collaborative Meetings -- January 15, 22, February 5

Members: Candido, Jones, Lennertz Jetton, Parker-Gibson, Salisbury

At the first meeting of the new year, the committee reviewed the Quizdom training session. Candido and Jones reported additional practice with the clickers. Jetton reported that Kirkwood was intending to try the clickers in a class the following week.

The committee discussed the list of questions that were designed and distributed by the Instruction Collaborative and agreed that it may be helpful to organize the questions into groupings that may be used in pre- and post-testing.

For the rest of the meetings, the committee reviewed the Introduction to the Homepage Video script and approved the video for production.

Lennertz Jetton demonstrated Google Analytics which will be used for gathering statistics on video use.
