We discussed our ideas for how to get the first 3 interviews off the ground. All are now editors on the Spaces Study staff guide and it should reflect our protocols and plans, mostly. (We are asking Beth Juhl to password protect this guide, for the time being it is a “private” staff guide.) Kathleen and Michelle will hammer out the details for holding onto all the consent forms as soon as we can.

We will meet again once each team has conducted one interview. One planned discussion point for this meeting is to use our data to help craft a method for coding so that interview artifacts may eventually be destroyed, per IRB. Tess is going to add some coding sample documents to Dropbox to get our thinking started.
