Happy Birthday, Jan!

Action items in yellow:
1. Minutes from 7/8/08 meeting approved with two edits

2. Fine Arts and GIS Pages
   Juhl announced that both the Fine Arts and GIS pages had been made live. Congrats were passed to Jan for all the hard work. Candido requested that the main exhibits page be updated so as to not confuse users who click to visit the FAL page, which does not always display the Dombek watercolor that has been permanently installed at FAL (done).

3. Research Wizard
   Lennertz Jetton had previously emailed the group with the report that the Learning Collaborative had approved the Wizard. Juhl suggested that the entire library staff should be invited to offer comments. Juhl will add a survey element after which Boyd will send the invitation out on Tuesday Times (done).

4. Annual Report
   Juhl asked for comments and additions to the draft annual report. Several typos were corrected and the leisure reading project was added back into the goals for the coming year.

5. Special Collections Redesign
   Nutt asked the group for comments on the several preliminary header designs developed by Nathan Lord. All of the designs were appealing. The group suggested that Nathan try to alter the colors on the Arkansas flag and Traveler motifs; they will then be shown to Special Collections staff for comments.

   Nutt is still trying to schedule a meeting with Special Collections staff to discuss their concerns on a web site redesign.

6. Building Surveys
   Juhl announced the amazing success of a quick student survey Morgan had put together for Juana Young. There have been more than 1050 student responses in less than 2 weeks.

7. GIS and Sanborn Maps
   Dixon demonstrated a new online archive of digitized Sanborn maps, geospatial, and directory data at Lehigh University, "Beyond Steel." (http://digital.lib.lehigh.edu/beyondsteel/) The City of Fayetteville has contacted Jan about a similar project to digitize Sanborn maps and host them on the city’s GIS server. Very impressive!

Next meeting: Tuesday, August 12th at 11am in room 472B.

Respectfully submitted,
B. Juhl 8 oz.
