Action items in Yellow.

Ebsco Integrated Search

The group’s agenda items for the meeting were to discuss the implementation on EHIS and the changes needed on the redesigned main web page to accommodate this new service.

1. Integrated Search Service
   The group reviewed the prototypes linked from http://libinfo.uark.edu/eresources/ehis.asp.

   a. Changes to Whole Hog (everything) search
      i. Revise subject groups (see below)
      ii. Remove Google Scholar to 2nd tier of results
      iii. Check on possibility of adding number of results next to those databases already processed (top tier)

   b. Changes to Whole Hog Articles search
      i. Remove Google Scholar to 2nd tier of results
      ii. Check on why JSTOR not in 1st tier
      iii. Check on possibility of adding number of results next to those databases already processed (top tier)

   c. Changes to Whole Hog Book search
      i. Check on possibility of adding number of results next to those databases already processed (top tier)
      ii. Check on possibility of allowing 50 results in first retrieval.
      iii. Inform Ebsco of need for more metadata here: dates, subjects.

   d. Changes to Whole Hog Reference search
      i. Fix typo Hig
      ii. Change name to Whole Hog Dictionaries, Encyclopedias, & Handbooks (but keep graphic)
      iii. Check on possibility of adding number of results next to those databases already processed (top tier)

   e. Next steps
      i. Create public page and / or place these on the trials page
      ii. Allow user comments from launch page
      iii. Add to A-Z List (top ten?)

2. Subject categories
   The group reviewed the pre-packaged categories that came with the EHIS service and discussed the benefits of more specific categories vs. a few broad categories. In the end, it was decided to begin with a few very broad categories:

   - General/News
   - Arts and Humanities
   - Science and Technology
• Social Sciences
Beth will create these categories, deleting the rest, and populate them. There will be subject options in Whole Hog and Whole Hog Articles, but not Books or Reference.

3. Tabs on New Main Page
After some discussion, it was agreed that the following tabs would be placed on the new search box on the main page:
• Articles
• Books
• Journals
• Databases
• Dictionaries & Encyclopedias (Facts and Dates???)
• Course Reserves
• Whole Hog
• Media & More

Below are the contents drafts for each tab.

Articles
Search across a number of article databases.
You may also search our Top Ten or Subject Specific Resources

Books
Search the library catalog for books, videos, and more at the UofA
Or search WorldCat for books, videos, and more in other libraries worldwide.
Search both with Whole Hog Books.
Journals

Search for journals, magazines, and newspapers at the UofA.

Looking for an article? Use our article search, instead.

Databases

Find databases by name

You may also browse for databases by name or by subject.

Facts & Dates

Search across a number of dictionaries, encyclopedias, handbooks, and other reference sources.

You may also search our Subject Specific Resources

Reserves

Search by class or instructor. More about course reserves.
Whole Hog

Search across a number of databases.
It’s the everything bagel of information!
You may also search our Subject Specific Resources

Videos & More...

Search for:

- Audio Recordings
- Dissertations
- EBooks
- EJournals
- LibGuides
- Manuscript Collections
- Maps
- Musical Scores
- Newspapers
- Videos

You may also search or browse by subject.

Beth and Arthur will work on the next stage of these tabs, adding the text and search forms.

4. Other Suggestions on New Main page
   a. Make Borrow from Other Libraries and Citing Your Sources a single link each, with no subheadings, so that info can move up the page
   b. Remove Whole Hog Articles from Find Articles links
   c. Remove Find it! from Find Articles links
   d. Change Find Books to Find Books and More or Find Books, Media, and More

Next Web Group Meeting: Wed November 3rd, 2010, 10:30 in room 472B.
