

Faculty Service Awards

In accordance with Academic Policy Series 1474.10 Faculty Service Criteria and Award Process, awards for faculty service are given to library faculty members beginning with an award for ten years of service and then in increments of ten, with following awards at 20, 30, etc. years of service. Each eligible faculty member will receive a certificate of appreciation for the years of service during the calendar year in which a decade of service is attained. The certificate will be presented by the faculty member's respective division director or designee at a venue that provides the opportunity for the greatest attendance by the faculty member's colleagues and with the agreement of the faculty member. The Libraries Human Resources Office will prepare the certificates.

Approved by FCC on October 6, 2011.
